Official Sails Home Brings Promise Of Cooperation

LONDON, May 19—Secretary of State Acheson sails for home today from the Atlantic Pact conference with a request from European allies for a stronger American commitment to go to war if Russia attacks Western Europe.

He also will carry back with him aboard the liner Britannic a big blank check for the American taxpayer to fill in as Uncle Sam's share of the cost of building up a powerful Atlantic Security Force to protect the Western World.

In return he has the promise of the foreign ministers of 11 other North Atlantic treaty nations to cooperate in creating a balanced, collective defense force. It is hoped that this will become strong enough in two or three years to withstand any Russian threat.

He also carried assurances that the European allies will accept a prominent American civilian personality as supreme coordinator of the Atlantic Pact Defense Organization.

OTHER FOREIGN ministers departing for home will tell their respective governments of Acheson's warning that far greater sacrifices and effort are required to help develop a collective defense force strong enough to discourage Russia from risking war with the West.

The European allies' request for a stronger American commitment to enter into war quickly if they are attacked was made in the course of secret council sessions.

It was made in connection with Acheson's appeal to the Atlantic Pact members to abandon their traditional but costly policy of trying to maintain individually adequate forces in all three branches of the armed services.

Crime Probers Focus On Cash To Build Empires

WASHINGTON, May 19—Senate crime probers focus their investigation today on the underworld cash used to build legitimate empires.

The crime hunters are operating on the theory that "cash is king" and that racketeers don't report their gross income from legal sources.

Instead, the committee believes, the bigtime operators slice a sizable amount "off the top" before filing tax returns.

That would give them an advantage over legitimate businessmen in buying a controlling interest in such things as hotel and restaurant chains and real estate.

But the investigators believe that records exist somewhere along the line between the illegal gains and the legitimate investments. They point out that you can't convert slot machine coins into thousand-dollar bills without at least a bank transaction.

Canadian Airmen Alerted

Will Use Airlift If Flood Worsens

WINNIPEG, Man., May 19—The Royal Canadian Air Force was alerted today to be ready for air evacuation of residents still remaining in flood-battered Winnipeg, capital city of Manitoba.

The airlift will be used, authorities emphasized, only in event the rampaging Red River reaches a stage of 32.5 feet. It is now at 29.3 feet, or 12.3 above flood level.

A steady rain brought an additional half inch of rain during the night to swell the already overflowing river. The weather bureau forecast clearing weather by afternoon.

The rain and an accompanying 30-mile-an-hour wind did not cause any further serious damage to the still intact but weakened major dikes in the greater Winnipeg district.

More than 120,000 persons, mostly women and children, in the city of 320,000 population already have been evacuated by trains, busses and automobiles.

Truman Support Seen Step To Two-Country Coal Merger

WASHINGTON, May 19—President Truman's warm support of the plan to merge French and German steel and coal industries was seen today as a powerful step toward the acceptance of Western Germany as a Cold War ally.

Diplomatic sources expressed the belief that the Chief Executive's unsolicited endorsement is an outcome of conferences held by Secretary of State Acheson with the British and French foreign ministers.

Had been reported earlier that Britain was temporarily dubious of the plan.

Before his departure for Paris and London, Acheson declined to express any opinion on the proposal, set forth by French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman.

Consequently the President's statement is interpreted as springing from Acheson's London talks, where both Schuman and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin were present.

BEFORE LEAVING the U. S., Acheson was known to favor some method of keeping the Germans on the side of the West. The situation had been complicated by the insistence of the French on retaining control of the rich Saar coal and steel area.

Mr. Truman's approval of Schuman's proposal was expected to speed adoption of the plan. If it goes into effect, the joint Franco-German control of these basic industries is expected to have these effects:

An age-old point of controversy between France and Germany would be removed, with France having full access to Ruhr coal.

Cartels governing these basic industries would be hard to re-establish since both nations would be participants in the control of iron and steel production.

The position of German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer would be strengthened by easier settlement of the Saar question.

France's insistence that she retain control of the area and Adenauer's inability to get the return back had weakened his position.

MR. TRUMAN endorsed the proposal in a prepared statement which he read at the opening of his weekly news conference.

He declared that the U. S. welcomed the proposal as an "act of constructive statesmanship." The welcome reception given the proposal in Germany, he added, is "likewise encouraging."

ARSON SUSPECT HAS VISION OF 'FLAMING RED HORSEMAN'

BRAKE IMMUNITY ABUSE

Senators Reject Idea Of Curtailing Powers

WASHINGTON, May 19—Senators on both sides of the McCarthy-Lattimore battle rejected today as impractical or fundamentally dangerous a suggestion that congressional immunity from lawsuits be limited.

Even Democrats who have been most sharply critical of the charges voiced in the Senate by Sen. McCarthy (R) Wis., failed to back up the idea voiced by Abe Fortas, counsel for Owen Lattimore.

Lattimore is the Far East expert charged by McCarthy with being a Russian spy and a pro-communist architect of American policy in the Pacific.

The Johns Hopkins university professor has denied the accusations under oath and denounced McCarthy as a liar and "stooge" of the so-called China lobby.

Fortas told members of the American veterans committee in Washington that Congress should put a "brake on the abuse of its immunity."

He suggested each house might by majority vote at a given time force a speaking member to waive his immunity from suit. But he conceded that such change involved a constitutional right held by members of Congress.

GOP Leader Wherry (R) Neb., declared that Fortas should "help clean out alleged subversives in government rather than think up reasons—even to extent of amending the constitution—to protect them in government."

In the seven-man race for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson piled up 159,191 votes to 105,601 for second-place Michael V. Disalio, mayor of Toledo. Ferguson will face Sen. Robert A. Taft in November. Taft, unopposed, received a complimentary vote of 473,343.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche easily won renomination on the Democratic ticket with 363,397 votes, snowing under Clarence H. Knisley, who received only 63,165.

HERE IS THE complete official tally:

Governor — Democrat, Gov. Frank J. Lausche, 366,397; Clarence H. Knisley, 63,165; Joseph Torok, 16,651. Republican: Ebright, 338,390; Rhodes, 157,346; Edward J. Hummel, 25,447; George V. Woodling, 18,947.

FBI May Enter Absconding Bank Clerk Case

CINCINNATI, May 19—The FBI was expected today to step into the case of an assistant cashier at a Waverly bank who claimed to have absconded with $7,000 and lost it to robbers.

The office of Pike County Sheriff Jess H. Foster reported the sheriff had decided after a conference with the county prosecutor to leave the case of 39-year-old Paul N. Smithson in the hands of federal authorities.

Smithson made his plight known yesterday when he walked into Cincinnati police headquarters and announced he had taken the bank funds but lost the money in an alley after a drinking spree.

He told police he was "fed up" with financial worries.

Sheriff Foster reported soon after Smithson's confession that a check at the Waverly State Bank revealed the money had been taken from a strongbox in a vault. Foster said, however, that about $13,000 remained in the strongbox.

The cashier dropped from sight after borrowing a car from bank clerk for a business trip to Chillicothe. The car was found later in Portsmith.

Police at Cincinnati said Smithson arrived there by bus from Portsmouth and began a round of the bars after registering at a hotel.

Smithson told of picking up a drinking companion who accompanied him to Newport, Ky., and back to Cincinnati. The cashier said he had the money when he "got out of the car in Cincinnati." He related:

"The next thing I remember was being choked in an alley. When I woke up everything was gone."

He said he then went back to his hotel for the night.

Truman's Reorganization Plans Face More Trouble

WASHINGTON, May 19—President Truman's reorganization plans face further troubles today despite the chief executive's rebuke to senators he said preach economy but do not support it.

After the fair employment practices gag rule issue is settled, the Senate turns its attention to Mr. Truman's plans for revamping the Federal Trade and Federal Power Commissions.

Executive Expenditures Chairman McClellan (D) Ark., whose committee studied the revamping plans, insisted that at least four of the plans "absolutely permit a grab of power."

McClellan added:

"I am not saying Mr. Truman would grab power. But the he's plans are there for ever and we must look beyond the present administration."

Also linked to Segee's fire career is William Graham, 23, of near Circleville who has pleaded guilty to attempting to burn the Heffner Grain Co. elevator near Williamsport.

Graham had been indicted by the recent grand jury here, pleaded guilty when arraigned before Judge William D. Radcliff.

The court ordered that Graham be sent to Lima State Hospital for examination. Already sent to the Lima institution is William Cradlaugh, Graham's cousin, who admitted setting fire to the Smith dairy barn on Route 104 north of here.

At one time Graham said he started the blaze which leveled the hog display barn on Pickaway Fairgrounds. Later, according to the local sheriff's office, Graham changed his confession, disavowing any connection to the blaze.

LIBRARY, Pa., May 19—Joseph L. Dickmon, the library cook digger who called John L. Lewis a "dictator," has quit the pits for good.

Dickmon, who was suspended from the United Mine Workers union during the January coal strike by Local 73, said yesterday he would pass up a chance to make himself eligible for reinstatement by attending a meeting of the local tomorrow.

By attending the session and repeating a public apology he made in April, he might have been able to get back in good graces with his local.

Mediation Board To Intervene In Threatened Rail Strike

WASHINGTON, May 19—The force demands for 48 hours' pay for a 40-hour work week.

NEARLY A million non-operating railroad workers set for Tuesday, May 20, last year, but this did not affect the switchmen or four other operating brotherhoods.

The trainmen and conductors union also are seeking 48 hours' pay for a 40-hour work week, but their case is being considered by a presidential emergency board in Chicago.

However, he has admitted setting a series of fires in a downtown Circleville alley. Cline said Segee was not definite as to location of the alley fires, but the Cave, Seyfert and Rothman properties are involved.

At the same time, Segee reportedly has admitted to setting "several" fires in Columbus. About 14 different fires in Ohio's capital city "follow Segee's pattern," Cline reported.

Segee's strange mental visitation by the "red Indian" not only interested investigators but apparently embarrassed the National Board of Fire Underwriters which is closely linked to the probe.

In fact, Segee was taken to the NBC offices in Columbus and it was there that he was questioned.

SEGE TOLD local officials that the "red Indian" awakened him from sleep, that he "went blank" afterward, but that fires generally followed.

The 30-year-old coal miner was suspended by a vote of 151 to 0 by his local after he labeled Lewis a "dictator" in a letter to the editor of a Pittsburgh newspaper.

He called the Miners Welfare Board a "Lewis puppet," adding:

"Old John L. controls two of the three votes, and anything he wants passed or defeated, will be passed or defeated."

"If I were on that board, I swear its money would be used for aged miners and they wouldn't have to wait nine months to get their checks."

Court Affirms Treason Rap Of 'Axis Sally'

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The U. S. court of appeals today affirmed the treason conviction of Mildred E. Gillars, who is serving a prison term of 10 to 30 years.

Miss Gillars was found guilty on March 25, 1949, of betraying her country in time of war by broadcasting Nazi propaganda over the Berlin radio.

Her broadcasts, in which she was identified as "Axis Sally," were beamed at American combat troops and the government charged that she sought to weaken the morale of fighting GI's in an attempt to bring about collapse of the Allied offensive.

MISS GILLARS was fined $10,000.

The Maine-born woman, a former actress, was living in Germany at the outbreak of World War II. She became star attraction on the Nazi radio, but testified at her trial that she was compelled to serve as a propagandist under threats of death or torture.

Judge Charles Fahy wrote the appellate court decision upholding the conviction. The ruling was unanimous.

In addition to the prison term,

Richard Willison of Groveport was fined $20 and costs for failing to yield the right of way on Route 23. The affidavit accusing Willison was signed by K. W. Taylor.

Civil Rights Program Blocked In Senate Vote

WASHINGTON, May 19—President Truman's Civil Rights program was blocked in Congress today when the Senate failed by 12 votes to gag the southern filibuster against the Fair Employment Practices Bill.

The bi-partisan move to limit the speechmaking of the Dixie senators and force action on the FEPC bill received only 52 of the 64 votes needed. The Southerners and their friends polled 32 votes against imposing "closure," the device by which Senate debate is limited.

Today's vote was the first test on the Senate's new closure rule, adopted last session after a fruitless attempt to bring up anti-poll tax legislation. The rule provides that debate can be limited only when two-thirds of all 96 senators approve such action.

Voting for closure to shut off the debate were 33 Republicans and 19 Democrats. Anti-closure votes were cast by 26 Democrats, mostly southerners, and six Republicans.

'EMPTY ASH TRAYS'Matches, Careless Smoking Are Causes Of Many Fires

Someone once said that "A Match is a Monster with a Head but no Brain."

Now comes Circleville Fire Chief Palmer Wise to say that "Ninety-five percent of all fires are the act of some individual. Call it whatever you like, carelessness or anything else, it is costing in property and lives, every factory, mercantile and home owner in Ohio.

"This act can be attributed to large extent to the careless smoker and the apathetic attitude of the man with a match."

Wise added, "Over 28 percent

National Pickle Week Begins

CHICAGO, May 19—National Pickle Week has begun—and those who choose may get pickled in mince julep pickles.

Manufacturers also are offering pickles flavored with bourbon, scotch, egg nog, spiced rum, absinthe, brandy, and assorted cocktail tastes.

For the younger set, there are raspberry, strawberry, grape, pineapple and cherry flavored pickles.

The National Pickle Packers Association named today Vespucci Day in honor of Amerigo Vespucci, the explorer for whom America was named. They claim he started out as a pickle salesman in Seville.

Dulles Speaks At Banquet

CLEVELAND, May 19—John Foster Dulles declared last night that any mixture of politics and religion is "dangerous business."

Speaking at a banquet commemorating the 100th anniversary of the Cleveland Temple, Dulles, consultant to the state department on foreign policy, said that he was opposed to the idea of reorganizing the United Nations without the Communist nations in it.

Dulles obviously was referring to a speech by former President Herbert Hoover last month in which he suggested the elimination of the communist nations in a revised UN.

Dixon Chosen Medical Head

CLEVELAND, May 19—Dr. Fred W. Dixon of Cleveland was chosen president-elect Thursday of the Ohio State Medical Association.

Dr. Dixon, 61-year-old ear, nose and throat specialist, will assume the office of president in 1951-52. Dr. E. O. Swartz of Cincinnati took office as president to serve until next year's convention in his home city.

Dr. Dixon served as concilor for the organization in Cuyahoga, Ashtabula, Geauga and Lake Counties for six years. As president, he will be the leader of more than 7,400 organized Ohio physicians.

Nature Fouls Man's Efforts

ALEXANDRIA, Va., May 19—Nature fouled up man's best efforts at safety near Alexandria today.

A Seaboard Air Line railroad passenger train was halted by a red block signal and a Chesapeake and Ohio train rammed it from the rear, injuring 11 passengers, none seriously. Both trains were operating on the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac right of way.

The red light that stopped the first train shouldn't have been there, but RF and P officials said they couldn't help it. It was changed from green to red by lightning.

Rusty wrapped the baby skunk in his coat and hung it on a peg in the hall when he arrived at school.

But even baby skunks can protest. This one soon made its presence known by a certain odor that wafted through the boys' English class.

Rusty and Freddy were sent home. The skunk was swiftly turned loose.

Soaking in the bathtub at home, Rusty bewailed the fact that it was the first time he had missed class in nine years.

18 Columbus Lads Under Arrest

COLUMBUS, May 19—Eighteen east side Columbus boys involved in at least two score burglaries are under arrest today in what juvenile authorities have termed the smashing of a 'teen-age mob.'

The cleanup, started weeks ago when several youngsters were picked up for bicycle thefts, was completed yesterday with the arrest of the 18th member of the gang.

According to police, the boys, ranging in age from 13 to 19, have admitted rifling 35 automobiles, breaking into five homes and business places and stealing approximately 15 bicycles in the past six months.

The gang was described as "not well organized." Police said members kept most of the stolen goods for trading back and forth among themselves.

Galion Wins Court Review

COLUMBUS, May 19—The city of Galion has won a Supreme Court review of a decision which would allow the Ohio public service company to sell electrical power to two of its largest industries.

The case dates back to Oct. 5, 1948, when council passed a 10-year ordinance authorizing the company to supply electrical service to the Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing Company and the Central Ohio Steel Products Company on the ground the municipal light plant is unable to furnish adequate service.

A petition for a referendum vote on the council action was filed and the common pleas court granted an injunction barring a contract with the power company until the referendum action was disposed of. The appellate court dismissed the injunction.

But the high court today admitted the case to review.

Auto Production To Hit New High

DETROIT, May 19—Automotive News predicted today that U. S. auto production this week will surpass the new all-time high attained last week.

The trade paper estimated 139,540 cars and 28,000 trucks, a total of 167,000 vehicles, will roll off assembly lines to shatter last week's record-breaking 165,400 output.

An anticipated production of 173,000 vehicles is expected to topple the record again next week and increase the prospect for an unprecedented May production total.

Automotive News said the seven-day rail strike caused "cautious scheduling" in some plants but had no great effect on production.

Widow Killed In Explosion

NEW YORK, May 19—A 70-year-old widow was killed and two persons were injured early today in an explosion and fire which wrecked four apartments in a Manhattan apartment house.

Police identified the dead woman as Mrs. Emma Heidel-back and said the explosion originated in her fourth-floor apartment in the ten-story building on Lexington Avenue.

They said a preliminary investigation indicated a gas stove blew up and speculated the woman may have attempted to take her life by gas inhalation because of the death of an adopted son six months ago.

The explosion reduced the entire fourth floor to debris, but the fire was quickly extinguished. Police at first issued a report that two persons had been killed in the blast.

Man Rips Wall Out Of Church

CLEVELAND, May 19—A 30-year-old man, who said "a lieutenant is suffocating in that wall," ripped out boards and four bricks from the vestibule of Cleveland's Old Stone church.

Police arrived a few minutes later and took him to the State Receiving hospital.

The organ was imported to the United States from England about 1713.

School Lads Learn Lesson

DAYTON, May 19—Two small school boys brought a skunk to class this week—and learned the usual lesson.

Rusty Claggett and Freddy Busch, both 14, were on their way to school at Vandalia when they spotted a dog nagging a tiny black animal—black that is except for a telltale white stripe down the back.

Rusty wrapped the baby skunk in his coat and hung it on a peg in the hall when he arrived at school.

But even baby skunks can protest. This one soon made its presence known by a certain odor that wafted through the boys' English class.

Rotarians Hear Talk
On Prominent Personages

A Columbus newspaperman told Circleville Rotary Club Thursday that for the most part he had found the most prominent personages of the nation to be "little different from the man on the street."

Speaker was Norman Down, assistant city editor of the Columbus Dispatch, who appeared before the club's noon luncheon meeting in BPO Elks home.

Down gave Rotarians thumbnail sketches of various recent interviews he had had with prominent persons who had appeared in Columbus.

He declared that "real celebrities generally are more down to earth than us average people. The celebrity who has rocketed to fame overnight may be an exception because he is seeking headlines to keep his prominence."

"Many celebrities, especially politicians, do not care what is said about them—good or bad—as long as their names appear in print. They operate on the theory that the public will forget what is said, but will remember it."

DOWN GAVE the following personal views on some of the men he had interviewed:

Herbert Hoover—a grand old man who has no reason to seek publicity. He is sincere, very considerate and brings admiration for his great personality.

Dr. Arthur Fleming, president of Ohio Wesleyan University—a senatorial or gubernatorial candidate of the future.

COLUMBUS, May 19—Competition with brighter children may cause slow-learners in school to develop a maladjusted personality.

Dr. A. R. Mangus, Ohio State University sociologist, said that slow-learning children often become more handicapped by the disturbing knowledge of their failure.

In an address before the 74th annual conference of the American Association of Mental Deficiency, Dr. Mangus said as much as 15 to 20 per cent of school children are retarded.

He recommended school programs better fitted to the needs of such children and pointed out the possibility of disturbed slow-learners taking revenge on society in delinquency and crime.

CHICAGO, May 19—The National Labor Relations Board filed a complaint in Chicago Thursday charging John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers union and a coal company with unfair labor practices for firing a miner who attempted to lead a "back to work" movement during the recent strike.

The complaint was issued by Ross M. Madden, regional director of the NLRB in behalf of Robert N. Denham, NLRB general counsel.

At issue is the case of Lloyd M. Sidener, 45, of Canton, Ill., a shoveling engineer at the Buckheart mine of the United Electric Coal Company.

Maybe Thoreau Wasn't So Dumb
Yesterday was very warm for May—and for Eleanor and Billy too—so we hand-in-hand it up to Central Park and there got to chinning with an old gent named Timothy Jennings who has been around Manhattan since Rector's was a pup.

As we were gabbing about this and that, a lot of automobile horns began honking it up, and looking over toward the 72nd Street entrance we could see the traffic was snarled for a solid block.

"Progress!" snorted Timothy. "You folks happen to see Reader's Digest this month?"

"I did happen to see Reader's Digest this month," I said, "but what's it got to do with progress?"

"Some interesting statistics in it. Back in the horse-and-buggy days, a man could get around this town at the rate of eleven miles an hour. Today, in a hundred-horsepower car, he's lucky if he averages six."

"Why don't you take it up with City Hall?" deadpanned Eleanor.

"Starting as far back as 1867," said Timothy, "my father did take it up with City Hall, but all he ever got for his yelling was a sore throat."

"Exactly what did your father yell about?" I asked.

"At first, about the new-fangled elevated railway on Greenwich Street. He got up a petition claiming that it shut out the sun, fouled up the air and made people sick to their stomachs. Besides which he argued that the pillars in the street slowed down horse traffic and made it tough for a hackie to earn an honest dollar."

"Why was your father so contained about the haccies?" asked my wife.

tough. So instead of listening to my father I attended classes set up by the transit company, and in no time at all I was a motor-man on the Second Avenue El. But right up to the day he passed away, my pop kept insisting that nothing would ever replace the horse, and he warned me to save every cent I could against the time people came down to earth again."

"Did you follow his advice?" asked Eleanor.

"To the letter," said Timothy, "and a mighty good thing, too. By the time they tore down the Second Avenue El I had a pretty fair piece of cash in the bank and was able to go into business for myself. Let you out of the corner of 59th?"

"The corner's fine," I said.

"Whoa, Alberta!"

We got out of the hansom and I paid Timothy for the ride. He tipped his plug hat, and as we turned to go he leaned forward and patted his horse on the rump.

"Maybe Thoreau and Timothy's dad weren't so dumb," said Eleanor.

NEW YORK, May 19 — Two states, New York and New Jersey, have opened investigations into the slugging of Lee Mortimer, New York Daily Mirror crime reporter and Broadway columnist.

Racket-busting Deputy Attorney Nelson Stamler, and the New Jersey state police were ordered on the case by Attorney General Theodore Parsons.

Mortimer was battered to the floor of the swank Riviera Nightclub, at Fort Lee, N. J., by two thugs. At the same time, New York police began working to learn the identity of the pair Mortimer believes to be paid attackers.

ROME, May 19—Monsignor Franz Jachym, Austrian professor of moral theology who three weeks ago shocked a congregation in Vienna by turning away from a bishopric at the last moment, was consecrated in Rome today as a bishop.

The Catholic prelate who withdrew himself as "unworthy" of the office during ceremonies in Vienna was made a bishop in the Austrian church of Santa Maria Dell'Anima in the Eternal City.

CHICAGO, May 19—The National Labor Relations Board filed a complaint in Chicago today charging John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers union and a coal company with unfair labor practices for firing a miner who attempted to lead a "back to work" movement during the recent strike.

In the ceremony, in which Theodor Cardinal Innitzer, archbishop of Vienna consecrated the prelate, was attended by Austrian Chancellor Leopold Figl and some 2,000 others.

Monsignor Jachym, 39 years old, went through the ceremony this time with no qualms and accepted the responsibility of a bishop without any of the doubts which had interrupted the initial ceremony on April 23.

In the ceremony the monsignor became titular bishop of Maronea and coadjutor of the cardinal archbishop of Vienna.

Pope Pius XII examined personally the grounds which led the new bishop to quit his appointment at the altar in Vienna and again confirmed the nomination of the prelate who was consecrated today.

"Why was your father so concerned about the hackies?" I asked my wife.

"Best reason in the world—he was his own. But actually it wasn't all dollars and cents with him. You see, he was sort of a crusader and used to spend his nights reading those back-to-nature books by Thoreau. I remember his predicting that if folks didn't stop trying to improve on nature, they'd wind up being trapped by their own smart Aleck inventions."

"Did you agree with your dad?" I asked.

"Not when I was young," said Timothy. "By the time I was fixing to get married, the elevated systems were beginning to spread out, and hansom cabbies were finding the going pretty tough. So instead of listening to my father I attended classes set up by the transit company, and in no time at all I was a motorman on the Second Avenue El. But right up to the day he passed away, my pop kept insisting that nothing would ever replace the horse, and he warned me to save every cent I could against the time people came down to earth again."

HODGE-PODGE OF LAWS

Steel President Declares Something Wrong In Law

BOSTON, May 19 — Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel Corporation, said Thursday that when every businessman in America can be found guilty of violating the law, then there is something wrong with the law—and not with the businessman.

In support of this view, Fairless told an audience at the Boston Jubilee of 1950 held at the Copley-Plaza hotel of the dilemma faced by the businessman today. He said:

"That is the right to be right," Fairless said.

Labor Bills Are Discussed By Barkley

CLEVELAND, May 19—Nominations of general officers and executive board members highlighted the final day's business today at the 17th biennial convention of the CIO-Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

The head of Big Steel recalled that when the Supreme Court of the United States outlawed basing point setting methods in the cement case, "the heads of more than 100,000 American businesses—men who had been conducting their affairs in a perfectly law-abiding manner—were suddenly confronted by the possibility of being classed as criminals."

Fairless went on:

"THE TRUTH IS that we have on our federal statute books today a complete hodge-podge of so-called 'anti-trust' laws which have been allowed to grow, like Topsy, for 60 years, and which cannot be reconciled even with each other. The only way a businessman can be sure of obeying them all is just to go broke."

Fairless charged that the greatest single drawback to the effective operation of the American economic system "is the amazing but undeniable fact that the minute any man successfully establishes himself in any business nowadays, he automatically becomes a potential jailbird."

He urged his listeners "to dedicate ourselves here and now to the task of winning from our Congress at Washington the one

Hubby Forgot To Parry

CHICAGO, May 19—Mrs. Bette Nielsen's husband, Harold, forgot that she liked to fence—and then Harry forgot to parry. Now he's in Chicago's Billings hospital, thinking up cutting remarks about Bette's playful jokes.

Harold, 23, a University of Chicago student, brought home a new butcher knife. The new 15-inch blade shone like a mirror and was razor-sharp.

Mrs. Nielsen, who spent some time at the university studying fencing, was delighted. She picked up the knife, gave the fencing salute, bent her right knee and made a graceful lunge at Harold.

It took surgeons two hours to patch him up.

Barrett Urges Voice Of America Be Increased

NEW YORK, May 19—Assistant Secretary of State Edward W. Barrett urged last night that the Voice of America be raised to a shout to overcome Moscow's radio jamming tactics in the "Cold War."

Barrett, in a speech before the New York professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, journalistic fraternity, said the United States plans to double the Voice of America's power to penetrate Russia's Balkan satellites.

The former magazine executive said "truthful information" is a "Cold War weapon" and urged private agencies to make greater efforts to win the East-West battle of the airwaves.

Barrett said that the State Department plans a series of talks, starting in July, with representatives of private American media and other organizations. He added:

"The Voice of America is the total voice of this nation. The question is: how loud and clear shall it carry truth around the world?"

"I say to you in all sincerity that we are in an emergency now. The time for total cooperation is here. We must act together with the full power of this nation."

He placed the Voice of America audience at 300-million and said that letters from listeners have jumped from 10,000 monthly in 1949 to 25,000 at present.

Dayton Pastor Is Elected Head Of Presbyterians

CINCINNATI, May 19 — Hugh I. Evans, pastor of Dayton's Westminster church the past 26 years, will head the Presbyterian church in America for the coming year.

Dr. Evans was elected moderator of the general assembly of the United States of America in a meeting at Cincinnati yesterday.

He succeeds Dr. Clifford Edward Barbour, of Knoxville, Tenn.

The retiring moderator, Dr. Barbour, warned members that the trend toward evil has "increased alarmingly in the last decade." Illegitimacy, crime and consumption of liquor have stepped up, he asserted.

However, Dr. Barbour saw one brighter spot in that newspapers and magazines are giving increasing amounts of space to matters of religious significance.

At a preliminary meeting, Dr. William B. Pugh, of Philadelphia, said the total membership of the church is now 2,402,849, the largest in history.

KENT, May 19—Dr. Raymond M. Clark, a faculty member at Kent State university since 1926 and former acting president, is the new dean of the University Graduate School, a newly created office.

President George A. Bowman announced the appointment yesterday.

Dr. William G. Meinke, professor of foreign languages, has been named head of that department. He succeeds Dr. F. Dewey Amner.

Labor Bills Are Discussed By Barkley

CLEVELAND, May 19—Nomination of general officers and executive board members highlighted the final day's business today at the 17th biennial convention of the CIO-Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

After the nominations, appointment of tellers and various discussions, the 1,500 delegates, representing 375,000 members in the third largest CIO union, will start on their way back home, ending their five-day meeting in Cleveland.

At yesterday's sessions, Vice President Alben W. Barkley urged the unionists that the Taft-Hartley Act would be repealed, but he did not say when.

"We are committed to repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law and restoration of the Wagner Labor Relations Act," said Barkley, who praised the accomplishments of the New Deal and President Truman's Fair Deal in the last 18 years.

"We have not been able to change that law. But, my friends, I predict, whether it takes a month or it takes six months or it takes a year—the American people will finally elect a Congress that will make the change and restore to the working people of this nation that law (the Wagner Act)."

The vice president also predicted that president Truman's civil rights program would be adopted.

King Farouk Just Big Brother

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19—Farouk may be king of Egypt but to Princess Fathia today he is just a big brother making an awful fuss about her one desire to be plain Mrs. Riad Ghali. And Farouk is getting about as much attention from his sister as brothers normally get when it comes to a marriage. Fathia says: "we hope he'll get over it."

The petite, green-eyed brunette, whose love affair has made more headlines than Cleopatra's, does not appear perturbed about the royal edict stripping her of her title and personal fortune and declaring her civil marriage to Ghali, a commoner, illegal.

It took surgeons two hours to patch him up.

Dayton Pastor Is Elected Head Of Presbyterians

CINCINNATI, May 19 — Dr. Hugh L. Evans, pastor of Dayton's Westminster church the past 26 years, will head the Presbyterian church in America for the coming year.

Dr. Evans was elected moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States of America in a meeting at Cincinnati yesterday.

He succeeds Dr. Clifford E. Ward Barbour, of Knoxville, Tenn.

The retiring moderator, Dr. Barbour, warned members that the trend toward evil has "increased alarmingly in the last decade." Illegitimacy, crime and consumption of liquor.

have stepped up, he asserted.

However, Dr. Barbour saw one brighter spot in that newspapers and magazines are giving increasing amounts of space to matters of religious significance.

At a preliminary meeting, Dr. William B. Pugh, of Philadelphia, said the total membership of the church is now 2,402,849, the largest in history.

KENT, May 19—Dr. Raymond M. Clark, a faculty member at Kent State university since 1926 former acting president, is the new dean of the University Graduate School, a newly created office.

President George A. Bowman announced the appointment yesterday.

Dr. William G. Meinke, professor of foreign languages, has been named head of that department. He succeeds Dr. F. Dewey Amner.

Dear Patron:—

Your Board of Directors and Management thank you for your patronage and cooperation during the past year. Your patronage, along with your neighbor's, has resulted in the opportunity for expansion which included the new modern Co-op Store and Machine Shop and a greatly expanded business.

After paying a 4% dividend on capital shares, your Association was able to declare a small patronage dividend refund on its retail sales. A statement of your share of the savings for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1949 as well as credit held toward the purchase of stock in the Association is given below.

If your credits have exceeded the par value of a share of common stock for eligible patrons and preferred stock for ineligible patrons, a certificate is enclosed.

A calculation of your Patronage Refund account is shown as follows:

Balance Previous Year	Refund 1949	Total	Value Shares Issued	Balance To Your Credit

Patronage refunds for 1949 as above stated should be reflected in your income tax return when you make your return NEXT January.

If you will read the items listed at the top of this letter, you will note that the expansion program has made available most items needed on the farm.

Cooperatively yours,

MISFIT CHILDREN

THERE have always been children who have failed to fit the pattern of normal healthy childhood. Shyness, fearfulness, immaturity and inability to fit into any group have marked some ill-adjusted youngsters. Others, going further, have become liars, thieves and juvenile delinquents.

Members of the first group have often been carried along and been supposed to "grow out of it." In many cases they have done that, and have come to a satisfactory maturity. The second group, a continuing problem, has been subjected to varying forms of punishment and training with dubious effects. Of late years it has become the subject of serious study by psychiatrists.

The University of Pennsylvania, through its school of medicine and its hospital, has now established a psychiatric clinic exclusively for disturbed youngsters. Pediatricians are also being trained in psychiatry to enable them to catch emotional disturbances early and prevent their further development. Parents are expected to cooperate in this work, and are urged to treat mental and personality sickness with the same seriousness which they give to bodily illness.

Such a program should aid materially in reducing the number of inmates of mental institutions and of prisons.

KING FOR SPAIN?

KINGS are on their way out in most of Europe, but in Spain the supporters of royalty still have hopes. Although Franco rules as authoritatively as did Hitler, Spain is officially a monarchy. It is possible to advocate the installation of a king without being arrested, if the monarchist follower is discreet about it.

Some of the Spanish monarchists would like to see Don Juan, son of the country's last king, Alfonso XIII, ascend the throne. If they were only united, the movement might be formidable. The monarchists are split, however, into factions supporting other less well-known candidates. Then there still persists the old division between followers of the Bourbon or legitimate kings and supporters of the Carlist branch of the Bourbons. This division is more than a century old; the Carlists are even more reactionary than the Bourbon which is hard to achieve.

What the monarchists hope is that Franco will accept a monarch as a figurehead ruler, and himself become regent. With Spain's economic problems becoming desperate, Franco may attempt to distract public attention by featuring a monarchical restoration.

DIME IN THE SLOT

THE SLOT into which a nickel once was dropped for various purposes has largely given way to a smaller slot into which, peripherally, a coin of larger value is dropped. A few of the old familiar nickel slots have remained, notably the one on the pay telephone. Now, alas, even that one has been weakened by the ceaseless blows of inflation. In New York, the installation of pay phones at a dime a call has been approved.

If the nickel phone call goes, we still will be left with the five-cent parking meter. How long can it hold out?

If automobiles some day should scoot faster than the speed of sound, what would become of the back-seat drivers?

Has New U. S. Defensive
Weapon Outmoded B-36?

To Increase Power of
B-47 Stratojet Bomber

WASHINGTON—There have been several indications that the vaunted B-36 is on the way out. Recent developments, some secret, may have outmoded the giant bomber which started the investigation which wound up in the unification row.

It is reported that the armed services have perfected a defensive weapon which can easily destroy the B-36. Military leaders feel that if the United States can make such a weapon, so can Russia.

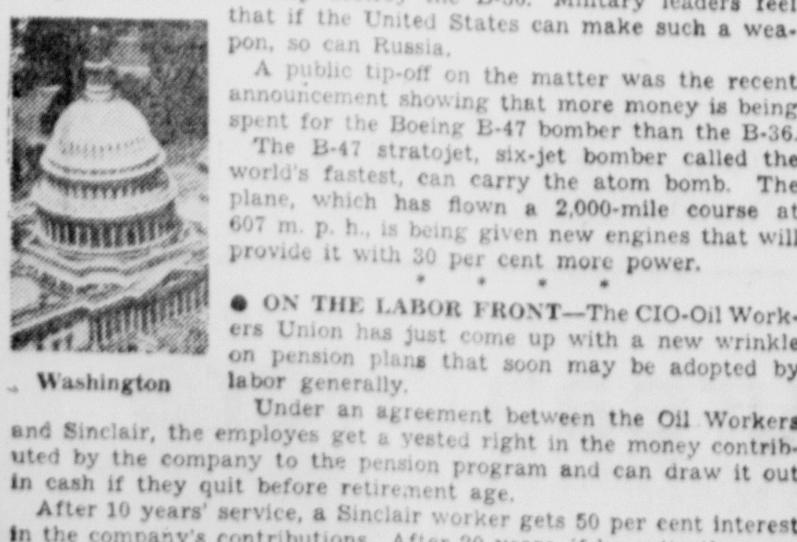

A public tip-off on the matter was the recent announcement showing that more money is being spent for the Boeing B-47 bomber than the B-36.

The B-47 stratojet, six-jet bomber called the world's fastest, can carry the atom bomb. The plane, which has flown a 2,000-mile course at 607 m. p. h., is being given new engines that will provide it with 30 per cent more power.

ON THE LABOR FRONT—The CIO-Oil Workers Union has just come up with a new wrinkle on pension plans that soon may be adopted by labor generally.

Under an agreement between the Oil Workers and Sinclair, the employees get a vested right in the money contributed by the company to the pension program and can draw it out in cash if they quit before retirement age.

After 10 years' service, a Sinclair worker gets 50 per cent interest in the company's contributions. After 20 years, if he quits the com-

These Days

My Dear Senator Chavez:

I have for several days pondered your speech in the Senate concerning Louis Budenz. From a psychological standpoint, it was interesting because you involved yourself not in politics but in canon law.

I have never met Louis Budenz. When he was editor of the "Daily Worker," he used to write excoriating articles about me, calling me a reactionary, a Fascist, and a tool of the National Association of Manufacturers. I did not mind the name-calling, because, senator, the record always shows what the facts are. Of course, I could have called names back, as you have done, but that strikes me as childish.

You and I and Louis Budenz and Joe McCarthy will soon enough go our way to eternity, but the struggle between Marxism and Christianity will continue as the struggle between good and evil, between God and the devil will continue. I refer you to the Book of Job on the subject—it was written long before anyone thought of us.

However, when Louis Budenz was reconverted to the Roman Catholic church, I sat back and waited. I wanted to be sure that that conversion was not false. As a Communist is, by definition, an atheist, his oath can never be accepted per se. I felt that I had to be sure of the sincerity of Louis Budenz.

His conversion was effected by Monsignor Sheen, a cherished friend, but I have never once spoken to Monsignor Sheen about it. For a year, Louis Budenz was at Notre Dame struggling with his soul. I am an alumnus of Notre Dame (by the back door of an honorary degree), but I have never spoken to President Cavanaugh about it.

I wanted to see what practical application Louis Budenz made of his conversion. I wanted to see a test made of his sincerity.

You say that you are a Roman Catholic and that for the first time in 19 years, you arose in Congress to speak as a Catholic. I take it that that was a rhetorical expression. A man of God is a man of God all the time, not once in 19 years.

Furthermore, yours is a hierarchical church, and therefore you could not speak as a Catholic, ex cathedra. Only the pope can do that in a matter of faith and morals. Yet you do try to give the impression that you also have a right to do that. You impugn the confessional; you deny re-pentance and penitence; you deprive a man of absolution. You go too far, if you go as a Catholic.

If you had said that, man to man, you would never believe Budenz, that is your right. When, however, you said that you, as a Catholic, rejected his conversion, you invaded a realm which, as a Catholic, you know is not yours. Your church denies that there are gods on earth, even in the United States Senate.

George D. McDowell Jr. of Ashville was notified today that his high grade in the 1940 eighth year test ranked him second high in Ohio.

Mayor W. B. Cady Friday appointed Dan McClain, Frank A. Lynch, T. O. Gilliland, Harry Bartholomew, Earl Smith and Dwight Steele as trustees of the new park playground.

Pickaway County Commissioners issued a proclamation Friday that May 20-25 be known as $125-a-month pensions—$25 higher than those signed by Ford, the steel industry and coal operators. Hence the union did not mind agreeing that both workers and Sinclair should contribute to the welfare program.

GUIDED MISSILES—There may soon be congressional pressure for stepping up the nation's guided missile program in view of the growing tension between the United States and Russia.

Already some sentiment exists on Capitol Hill for an investigation of the guided missile program which critics claim is lagging behind reported Soviet developments.

The Defense department is being asked by some congressional leaders to re-examine its missile research work to eliminate alleged duplication of effort and wasteful allocation of funds for unneeded projects.

Reliable sources say that none of the nine supersonic missile projects being developed will be ready for testing until 1951, and two will not be tested until late 1954.

OKLAHOMA POLITICS—Reports from Oklahoma are that Rep. A. S. Mike Monroney is making headway in his contest with Senator Elmer Thomas for the Democratic senatorial nomination in the Sooner state and Monroney stands a good chance to win.

Oklahoma politicos, however, say that the veteran Thomas' voting power must not be taken too lightly. They predict a scorching fight between now and the primary on July 4.

SOVIET TIMETABLE—Russian plans for conquest reportedly include taking over India by 1952. This was the word brought back by Rep. William Lemke (R.), North Dakota, from a recent tour of the Orient.

The congressman indicated he had gotten the information from Gen. Douglas MacArthur, supreme Allied commander in Tokyo. Lemke said of his trip: "We got an eye opener."

He declared that Russia also is fortifying Sakhalin Island, which lies only a few miles north of Japan.

Dangerous Type of Pregnancy

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

IT sometimes happens that a pregnancy will develop in the tube which leads from the ovary to the womb instead of in the womb itself. This is potentially a very dangerous condition unless it is diagnosed early and an operation performed.

If the tube should rupture, there is cramping pain in the lower part of the abdomen followed by a severe pain in this area. There also may be some pain in the shoulders. The patient may develop shock with rapid pulse, pale skin, and a marked drop in the blood pressure. The abdomen is tender. The patient often refuses to move because of the severe pain.

When this condition occurs, the patient should immediately be placed in a hospital and given injections of whole blood into a vein. As soon as the condition is sufficiently improved, an operation to eliminate the pregnancy should be performed.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

B. A.: I have small breasts. Would the breasts absorb sex hormones and become larger?

Answer: At times, certain medication has been used to improve the condition which you describe. However, the drug is a most powerful one and should never be used except under a doctor's supervision.

Other Symptoms

There are other symptoms of pregnancy, such as sickness at the stomach, vomiting and tingling of the breasts. The so-called pregnancy tests, such as the Friedman test, may not be positive until the pregnancy has been present for several months.

If the tube should rupture, there is cramping pain in the lower part of the abdomen followed by a severe pain in this area.

There also may be some pain in the shoulders. The patient may develop shock with rapid pulse, pale skin, and a marked drop in the blood pressure.

The abdomen is tender. The patient often refuses to move because of the severe pain.

When this condition occurs, the patient should immediately be placed in a hospital and given injections of whole blood into a vein. As soon as the condition is sufficiently improved, an operation to eliminate the pregnancy should be performed.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

B. A.: I have small breasts. Would the breasts absorb sex hormone cream and become larger?

Circleville Garden Club Holds Meeting In Home Of Mrs. Guy Heffner

Group Shown Color Slides

Circleville Garden Club held dollar night Wednesday when a meeting took place in the home of Mrs. Guy Heffner, Pinckney street. Each member told how his dollar donation had been earned. Roll call was answered by each member naming the perennial with which he had been successful.

Bernard E. Leets, associate forester of the state department of natural resources, was guest speaker. Highlighting his talk on trees were colored slides of Tar Hollow, Shawnee Forest, Ash Cave, Rockhouse, Old Man's Cave and Lake Hope.

Leets spoke of the vast forests in Ohio before the settlers moved here. At that time there was an acreage of 25,000 acres of forest per person. Now there is one half acre of forest land per person in the state.

Some of Leet's collection of slides included pictures of Ohio trees, especially dogwood and redbud in the Spring and Fall months when they are most colorful.

In the exhibit of arrangements two classes were displayed: an arrangement in an antique container, won by Mrs. Harry Kerns; and a coffee table arrangement, won by Mrs. L. W. Curl.

Mrs. Kerns, president, named the nominating committee to present slate of officers for June meeting.

Jackson School Junior-Senior Banquet Held

Jackson Township Junior-senior banquet, held in Pickaway Country club, was the highlight of the social season for upper classmen.

Places were laid at long tables decorated with tulips, spirea and iris. Blue streamers overhead formed other decorations.

After the banquet the entire group attended a movie in Columbus.

Those present were Dotty Bowling, Grace Stevenson, Hugh Monroe, Beverly Hapenny, Bob Etzel, Waneta Carpenter, Darrell Caudy, Mary Krimmel, Jerry Easter, Mary Lynn, James Holbrook, Virginia Scott, Ralph Hunt, Leon Radcliff, Carolee Huffer Wayne Rhoades, Helen Whaley, Kenneth Sowers, Rosemary Thompson;

Deanne Alexander, Johnny Roll, Marvine Cooper, Gladys Hulse, Phyllis Ankrom, Ray Hulse, Joan Kendall, Ralph Peters, George List, Mary Fullen, Charles Neff, Charlene Pallin, Larry Peters, Evelyn Tomlinson, Paul Derexon, Dick Woods, Bill Buskirk, Miss Emojoan Greene, Miss Kathryn Bowers, Miss Jean Renick, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moyer, Mr. and Mrs. Hillis Hall, and Don McCulasky.

Juvenile Granges Give Programs For Mother's Day

Four juvenile granges have reported Mother's Day entertainments given as main feature of Grange programs.

Star Juvenile Grange presented a program which followed the third and fourth degree work for a class of seven candidates. Work was presented by the Young Peoples' team. Candidates included Mr. and Mrs. John Siebel, Keith Bidwell, Ilene Bidwell, Jacob Follrod and Guy Wilson.

The grange charter was draped in memory of the late Mrs. Edna Liston.

When the juveniles gave their entertainment one of the numbers was a playlet, "Where's Mother." The cast was made up of the following juvenile grange members: Roy Morgan, Paul Morgan, Mary Lou Timmons, Kay Pollard, Joe Alkire and Beverly Beale.

Poems appropriate to Mother's Day were presented by Linda Liston, Suzanne Haller, Jeannette Brigner, Delores Beale, Patsy Wills, Patty Clark and Margaret Reid.

A playlet, "Honoring Mother" had, in its cast, Suzanne Porter, Florence Long and Hazel Kinch. The Bach sisters and the Kinch sisters sang "Whispering Hope." Jimmy List gave a vocal solo, "Mother". Mrs. Albert Dennis, oldest mother, received a corsage.

Highlight of the program when Scioto Valley Grange met recently was a May pole drill by the Juvenile Grange.

Mrs. Ira Fischer as the oldest mother present was given a May basket of Spring flowers. Also receiving baskets were Mrs. Robert Peters, youngest mother, and Mrs. Donald Courtright, mother of the largest family.

David Hatfield gave a reading, "Mom." Michael Hatfield played a piano solo. Mrs. C. A. Haslegrave followed with an original toast, "To Our Mothers."

Concluding the program, the grange quartet, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fisher, Mrs. Herman Berger and Walter Berger sang "My Mother's Prayer."

At the Tuesday meeting of Logan Elm Grange in Pickaway Township school the juvenile grange under the direction of grange matron, presented the entertainment for the evening.

Flowers were presented to all mothers present by Nancy Wilson and Alice Lou Hill. The hall was decorated with flowers provided by Mrs. Ed Wilkins and Mrs. Donald Miller.

Juanita LaRue was in charge of recreations. Refreshments were served by Judy Fosnough and Bobby and Tommy Dern.

A friendship circle and the singing of "Taps" concluded the meeting.

Republicans Plan Gigantic Rally For This Summer

CLEVELAND, May 19—A gigantic rally, setting off the Republican party campaign in Ohio, will be held sometime in August. Ray C. Bliss, state GOP chairman, met in Cleveland yesterday with a group of Republican nominees for states offices and mapped strategy for the coming campaign for election in November.

The exact date and place of the kickoff rally was not set, but Sen. Robert A. Taft is scheduled to be the main speaker.

Included among those attending the strategy session were Don Ebright, nominee for governor; George H. Bender, for congressman-at-large; C. William O'Neill, for attorney general; Roger W. Tracy, for state treasurer; Ted W. Brown, for secretary of state; J. Eugene Roberts, for lieutenant governor, and Walter B. Wanamaker, for chief justice of the Ohio supreme court.

Although Senator Taft could not attend the meeting because of his wife's illness, he telephoned his well-wishes from Washington.

"I want you to know that I am deeply anxious for a complete Republican victory this fall and also extremely hopeful about that result."

Now, by what yardstick do I conclude that Louis Budenz is sincere—utterly, completely, totally sincere? By his acts since his conversion, Senator Chavez.

Budenz was the first man to name Gerhart Eisler as the number one Communist agent in America. His exposure of Eisler was justified by the course of events. Eisler is today the top Communist in East Germany and our greatest enemy in Europe, next to Stalin.

Budenz identified J. Santo and J. Peters as Communist agents. Both voluntarily left the United States, which they should not have been permitted to do.

Budenz testified in the two-trials of Harold Christoffel. Both trials resulted in conviction.

Budenz was a witness before the House Committee on Un-American Activities in the Alger Hiss case.

Budenz was the government's chief witness for 10 days in the trial of the eleven Communists before Judge Medina. They were all convicted.

Budenz was the witness before the House Labor Committee five times concerning the United Electrical Workers, which was expelled from the CIO, confirming Budenz's testimony.

Budenz has spent more than 100 hours in giving data to the FBI, which they have used advantageously.

He could have been silent, teaching economics at Fordham University. Instead he risks just such attacks as yours. By his deeds, you shall know him.

Sincerely yours,

George E. Sokolsky.

Baby Adoption Study Asked

CLEVELAND, May 19—Parker Fulton, new president of the Cuyahoga County Bar Association, has urged a combined study by the Cuyahoga and Cleveland Bar Associations of baby adoption practices by certain lawyers.

The investigation, he said, might turn up evidence that many suspected problems "may be non-existent."

"The claim of some disinterested lawyers who have studied the problem is that there is no illegality in so called private adoptions," he added.

there are claims that "adoption proceedings are illegally handled by certain lawyers and illegally disposed of the probate court."

Cheese Armistice Is Declared

Ohio Holes Said Better

WASHINGTON, May 19 — An armistice was declared today on the Swiss cheese front in Congress.

Reps. Smith (R) Wis., and McSweeney (D) Ohio, reached an agreement to make their scheduled battle over the merits of the cheeses produced in their respective states a "no-decision" affair.

As a result, House members tomorrow will have the benefit of consuming two 200 pound wheels of Swiss cheese—one from each state—without having to go on record as to which is the better.

Smith said that political considerations entered into his agreement that the affair should be non-controversial. He pointed out that Democrats in the House outnumbered Republicans and added:

"Partisan politics might result in the Democrats abandoning their responsibilities as gourmets and voting a straight party line for Mr. McSweeney's cheese."

BOTH congressmen agreed that it would not be to the detriment of the Swiss cheeses industry as a whole to have a congressional decision on which state manufactures the choicer product.

Originally, McSweeney accepted a challenge by Smith that Wisconsin Swiss cheese is matchless. McSweeney contended that cheese made in his Ohio district, composed of Holmes, Stark, and Tuscarawas Counties, is better than Wisconsin cheese in every aspect—including holes.

The Ohio wheel of cheese was manufactured by John Schneider of Ringersville, Ohio, and will be brought to Washington in a specially designed "cheesemobile."

The Wisconsin cheese will be flown from Madison to the capital.

In addition the Ohio "cheesemobile" will bring a special star-shaped package of Buckeye Swiss cheese for President Truman.

Teen Tips

What's YOUR problem? Perhaps it's one of these:

I have three questions I'd like to ask you. They are—First: When a boy calls you on the phone to ask for a date and you don't want to give definite answer because you want to ask your mother's permission, what is a correct thing to do?

Second: Is it correct to answer the door yourself when your date arrives? 'A' said it makes you look like an eager beaver. 'B' said that you are supposed to, especially the first time, so you can introduce him to your parents. Which is right?

Third: Have you a chart showing the correct weight and height for each different age?"

Ans.—1. Ask him to hold the line while you "check on family plans" or thank him, tell him you'd love to, and ask him to call you tomorrow and you'll let him know whether you can or not. To make it as definite as possible, you could add, "What time will you call tomorrow?... So I'll be sure to be here."

2. "B" is right.

3. Correct weight varies with individual bone structure, so correct weight for a girl of 15 with a large frame is different from that of a girl of the same age with a small frame. See what I mean? Please send me your height, bust, waist and hip measurements or more information about your own weight.

For the free leaflet, "Fashions and Your Figure" to help you look your prettiest, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elinor Williams at this paper.

Micah Pleads for Human Rights

REBUKES LEADERS FOR THEIR UNRIGHTEOUSNESS

Scripture—Micah 1:1, 2; 3:5-12; 6:6-8.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

IN 722 B. C., the kingdom of Samaria was conquered by the Assyrians. It may be that not all the inhabitants were carried away captive, but the ten "lost tribes" vanished from history.

Extermination threatened also the two tribes of the southern kingdom. In this unhappy period Micah, the Morasthite, arose and prophesied. He told his people that God would surely punish them for many sins, but that there was a chance for them if they would renounce their evil ways and turn again to Jehovah.

Micah had a vision of a world without wars (about 725 B. C.), when the condition of his world was even more precarious than ours is today. His hope must have seemed very wild and improbable to the people living in that dangerous era.

Like Hosea, Micah pointed out the many sins of his generation. "They covet fields, and seize them; and houses, and take them away; and they oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage."

We of this age can appreciate that accusation. We know that in the past few years, especially during the second great World War, millions of innocent people were dispossessed of their homes and driven into strange countries, or left to wander about their homelands to suffer hunger, lack of proper clothing, knowing not where they might lay their heads.

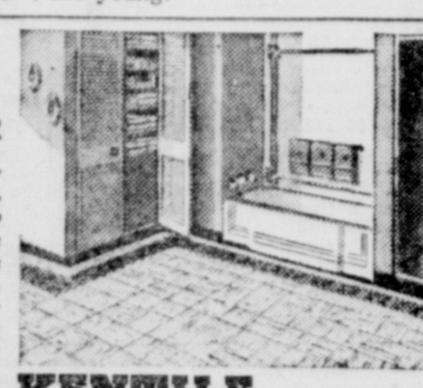

Children usually wake up early in the morning. They may even plan some mischief that they carry out when they get up. That mischief never brings them happiness any more than ill-gotten riches make an adult happy.

In ancient times the loss of ancestral lands was more deeply felt than is often the case today, although there are many now who, after many generations, still cling to the land that their fathers settled years ago and which they deeply love and would be greatly grieved to lose.

Micah Pleads for Human Rights

REBUKES LEADERS FOR THEIR UNRIGHTEOUSNESS

Scripture—Micah 1:1, 2; 3:5-12; 6:6-8.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

IN 722 B. C., the kingdom of Samaria was conquered by the Assyrians. It may be that not all the inhabitants were carried subject to when evil men in power planned to take their lands from them.

Extermination threatened also the two tribes of the southern kingdom. In this unhappy period Micah, the Morashite, arose and prophesied. He told his people that God would surely punish them for their many sins, but that there was a chance for them if they would renounce their evil ways and turn again to Jehovah.

Micah had a vision of a world without wars (about 725 B. C.), when the condition of his world was even more precarious than ours is today. His hope must have seemed very wild and improbable to the people living in that dangerous era.

Like Hosea, Micah pointed out the many sins of his generation. "They covet fields, and seize them; and houses, and take them away; and they oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage."

We of this age can appreciate that accusation. We know that in the past few years, especially during the second great World War, millions of innocent people were dispossessed of their homes and driven into strange countries, or left to wander about their homelands to suffer hunger, lack of proper clothing, knowing not where they might lay their heads.

Children usually wake up early in the morning. They may even plan some mischief that they carry out when they get up. That mischief never brings them happiness any more than ill-gotten riches make an adult happy.

In ancient times the loss of ancestral lands was more deeply felt than is often the case today, although there are many now who, after many generations, still cling to the land that their fathers settled years ago and which they deeply love and would be greatly grieved to lose.

The Mosaic law tried to safeguard ancestral lands for their original owners. Micah spoke as one of the people when he told of the oppression home owners were subject to when evil men in power planned to take their lands from them.

Micah had his say about the prophets or religious leaders of Israel who misled the people, lied to them, were spiritually blind.

Then there were also seers (supposedly wise men) and "diviners," who were supposed to foretell what was in store for their people, but received, says Micah, "no payment of God."

Micah himself was "full of power by the Spirit of Jehovah, and of judgment, and of might, to declare unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sin."

He knew that Jehovah had called him to do this work of warning and attempted redemption to men.

What does the Lord ask of His people on earth? Micah asks the question and answers it:

"Wherewith shall I come before Jehovah, and how myself before the high God? shall I come before Him with burnt offerings, with calves a year old?"

"Will Jehovah be pleased with thousands of rams, or with tens of thousands of rivers of oil?"

"Shall I give my first-born for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?"

"How hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth Jehovah require of thee, but to do justly, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with thy God?"

It seems very simple, does it not, for all of us to obey this command? Centuries have passed since Micah preached this doctrine to his people, and still men lie, covet their neighbors' lands, deceive others, kill and maim, and do all manner of evil.

All know better—all can understand God's requirements to earn His approbation, from the least to the greatest. We can at least try, as parents, teachers, men in public office, from humble posts of trust to the greatest, to follow His commands and teach them to the young.

Circleville Track Team Wins All-County Meet

A well-balanced Circleville junior high school track team Thursday won the second annual All-County junior track meet, held at Circleville high school.

Nearly 1,500 spectators—mostly youngsters—were on hand to witness the second annual event, sponsored this year by the Circleville high school Stooge Club.

Thursday's perfect weather and robust cheering led the county junior high tracksters into record breaking performances.

Only one of the marks set during last year's junior track carnival remained standing after the Thursday classic. The lone mark to stand was the pole vault record, set last year by Evans of Pickaway.

Circleville juniors bested the five "B" Class county schools in the contest by tallying a total of 56½ points, while Ashville pressed the junior Tigers throughout the match to finish with a total of 49 points.

ASHVILLE HAD paced scoring through the earlier events, although as the final 75-yard dash came on deck to windup the meet, Circleville had established a lead of 51½ to 43. Ashville, racing only one entry in the final race, tallied a six-point first

Ashville Nine Meets London In Regionals

Ashville Broncos baseball team Friday was to have opened its assault on the Class "B" district tournament regional pennant against London hardballers.

The Broncos were slated to meet the Londoners at 3 p.m. in

Ohio State University for a crack at the finals of the regionals contest scheduled for Saturday.

Both Ashville and London were tops in this district during recent playoffs, both advancing to the regional berth with narrow wins last Friday.

Ashville blasted itself into the regionals by defeating a favored

Cardington team by an 8-6 margin, while London was banging away at St. Mary's to post an 11-10 victory.

COACH WALTER (Deke) Eberle, mentor for the high-flying

Broncos squad, said Veteran

David Kraft was to have started on the mound for Ashville during the Friday match.

Kraft, a righthanded hurler, is unbeaten this season, having elected the Broncos crew into its current tourney heights.

Ebler said that if the Bron- cos win the Friday tilt the team will be matched against the winner of a Philo-Middle-port game for the regional finals at 2 p.m. Saturday. Winner of the Saturday game will advance into the state eliminations.

Other members of the championship Ashville team who were to have started in the regional opener were Kent Zwayer, catcher; Jim Cook, first base;

Herb Pettibone, second base;

Ron Wilson, shortstop; Bob

Swoyer, third base; Charles

centerfield; and Fred Bandy, right field.

DIP IN THE DEEP? Not yet, but it's a risky ride for this surf-board skipper. And it takes a skillful tilt to keep dry in aquaplaning—a real man's sport. Next time your throat's dry, just dip into a tall creamy-topped glass of Bavarian's Old Style, a MAN'S Beer. That first cool sip will tell you Bavarian's is mellow and full-flavored. Bavarian's is better because it's brewed slowly and aged fully, the Old Style way. Whenever you want real satisfaction, just tilt a glass of Bavarian's Old Style, a MAN'S Beer. Safe Driving Practices Are Urged By Patrolmen Here

Holiday Suggestions Are Offered

Accident Toll Declared High

Motorists planning an automobile trip for Memorial Day were urged today by State Highway Patrolman C. E. Wells to pay strict heed to the safety of themselves and others while driving.

Safe driving practices, Wells pointed out, must be put into effect by the motorists in order to keep down the high toll of accidents on streets and highways jammed with traffic over Decoration Day.

These suggestions were offered by the patrolman to motorists who may be on the road over Memorial Day:

(1) SEE THAT your car is in perfect condition before starting out. Make sure that the following are in safe operating order: headlights, tail and stop lights, brakes, steering assembly, windshield wipers, rearview mirrors, tires and horns. Check Your Car and Check Accidents!

(2) Get an early start so that most of the trip will be behind you before traffic gets heavy.

(3) Get an early start home so as to avoid heavy home-bound traffic and also to avoid driving when you are tired.

(4) Above all, don't assume the sort of holiday spirit which leads you to forget care and caution.

Bureau Continues Exam Of Youth

ELYRIA, May 19—The Elyria Juvenile Research Bureau continued its examination today into the case of the 17-year-old youth who brutally beat Dr. Mary Emily Sinclair, 70, retired Oberlin college mathematics professor.

Juvenile Judge M. Malcolm Thomson ordered the examination yesterday after a hearing at which the youth claimed he beat Miss Sinclair on the head with a pair of pliers because he blamed her partly for sending him to the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster in 1949 for the theft of a car.

Miss Sinclair is confined to Allen hospital in Oberlin with a fractured nose and skull.

Judge Thomson said he would refer the youth's case to the grand jury if the Juvenile Research Bureau report permitted such action.

The case would then be handled under adult criminal statutes.

Judge Raps Birns Trial

CLEVELAND, May 19—Judge Edward Blythin, who presided at the first bomb-blackmail trial of Alex "Shondor" Birns, said last night that we "have come to a point where convictions do not seem possible."

Blythin's statement came after Birns and his co-defendants were cleared of all bombing and extortion charges Wednesday night at the conclusion of the re-

PRESENT TREND THREATENING

Compulsory Disability Pay Opposed By Doctors

CLEVELAND May 19—A firm stand against any Ohio legislation for compulsory temporary disability compensation was taken late yesterday as the Ohio Medical Association concluded its annual three-day meeting in Cleveland.

The association said, in a resolution:

"The medical profession of Ohio endorses the principle that every worker should voluntarily protect himself and the members of his family against the hazards of nonoccupational illness and injury."

"Moreover, the medical profession is in agreement with the principle that public assistance, including medical and hospital services, should be provided on state or local basis for those in need, regardless of the cause."

"Any state which adopts a compulsory disability insurance program is setting up the pattern for transfer to the federal government."

"The time has come to call a halt to the present trend which is encouraging the surrender of individual initiative, destroying ambition and responsibility and threatening our national economy with bankruptcy."

Another resolution passed by the delegates urged members and their families to register for the Nov. 7 election.

The convention also approved a bill recommending that the "Hess" report be adopted by the American Medical Association.

trial. The first trial ended in a hung jury.

The former Cleveland mayor also rapped at the State Liquor Board in a talk at a meeting of the Goodwill industries.

He said the state is in the liquor business "for money only without regard for the degradation it produces. It's time that we locally—no matter what the liquor board or governor does—must move in and say: 'you can't do those things in this community.'"

DISORDERS ARE THREE TYPES

Heart Defects Higher In Feeble-minded Persons

COLUMBUS, May 19—The 74th annual meeting of the American Association on Mental Deficiency was told Thursday that the percentage of heart malformations "is unquestionably higher in the feeble-minded."

Dr. Hans Mautner, senior physician at Massachusetts' Wrentham State school, pointed out, however, that functional heart "murmurs" seem to be more frequent among normal children.

Dr. Mautner said that studies of heart disorders of his patients showed three distinct types of heart defect, each of which seemed to accompany a type of mental deficiency.

However, he said that some children had heart malformations which did not fit into any of the three types. Nevertheless, he declared that the pattern of defect within the three "seems to be clear and distinct."

Earlier a Cleveland pediatrician reported that an operation designed to increase the arterial blood supply to the brain has resulted in improvement in a number of test cases of mental retardation.

DR. CHARLES F. McKHANN, professor of pediatrics at Cleveland's University hospitals, made the report before the 74th annual meeting of the American Association of Mental Deficiency. Associated with him in the research were Doctors Claude

S. Beck and W. Dean Belnap. Dr. McKhann said that the underlying theory of the experiment was that in children with brain injury or inflammation there might be living brain cells whose functioning could be improved by an increased blood supply.

A surgical technique for the necessary operation was devised and used on 125 patients, who had mental retardation, convulsive disorders and impairments due to brain injury.

The longest follow-up of a patient receiving the surgery was reported as 15 months and the shortest as two months.

Dr. McKhann said the best results were observed in children. Thirty-five percent of the children showed observable improvement while an additional 19 per cent showed evidence of improvement. Forty-six per cent failed to improve.

OF 34 CHILDREN with convulsive disorders, five showed a complete absence of attacks after surgery; nine showed complete control of attacks with added medication, and six were improved. Of children with cerebral palsy, about one-third showed marked improvement after the surgery.

Of adults with arterio-sclerosis, the Clevelander reported half improved. However, he said the complication rate among adults was higher.

Safe Driving Practices Are Urged By Patrolmen Here

Holiday Suggestions Are Offered

Accident Toll Declared High

Motorists planning an automobile trip for Memorial Day were urged today by State Highway Patrolman C. E. Wells to pay strict heed to the safety of themselves and others while driving.

Safe driving practices, Wells pointed out, must be put into effect by the motorists in order to keep down the high toll of accidents on streets and highways jammed with traffic over Decoration Day.

These suggestions were offered by the patrolman to motorists who may be on the road over Memorial Day:

(1) SEE THAT your car is in perfect condition before starting out. Make sure that the following are in safe operating order: headlights, tail and stop lights, brakes, steering assembly, windshield wipers, rearview mirrors, tires and horns. Check Your Car and Check Accidents!

(2) Get an early start so that most of the trip will be behind you before traffic gets heavy.

(3) Get an early start home so as to avoid heavy home-bound traffic and also to avoid driving when you are tired.

(4) Above all, don't assume the sort of holiday spirit which leads you to forget care and caution.

Bureau Continues Exam Of Youth

ELYRIA, May 19—The Elyria Juvenile Research Bureau continued its examination today into the case of the 17-year-old youth who brutally beat Dr. Mary Emily Sinclair, 70, retired Oberlin college mathematics professor.

Juvenile Judge Malcolm Thomson ordered the examination yesterday after a hearing at which the youth claimed he beat Miss Sinclair on the head with a pair of pliers because he blamed her partly for sending him to the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster in 1949 for the theft of a car.

Miss Sinclair is confined to Allen hospital in Oberlin with a fractured nose and skull.

Judge Thomson said he would refer the youth's case to the grand jury if the Juvenile Research Bureau report permitted such action.

The case would then be handled under adult criminal statutes.

Judge Raps Birns Trial

CLEVELAND, May 19—Judge Edward Blythin, who presided at the first bomb-blackmail trial of Alex "Shondor" Birns, said last night that we "have come to a point where convictions do not seem possible."

Blythin's statement came after Birns and his co-defendants were cleared of all bombing and extortion charges Wednesday night at the conclusion of the re-

PRESENT TREND THREATENING

Compulsory Disability Pay Opposed By Doctors

CLEVELAND, May 19—A firm stand against any Ohio legislation for compulsory temporary disability compensation was taken late yesterday by the Ohio Medical Association concluded its annual three-day meeting in Cleveland.

The association said, in a resolution:

"The medical profession of Ohio endorses the principle that every worker should voluntarily protect himself and the members of his family against the hazards of nonoccupational illness and injury."

"Moreover, the medical profession is in agreement with the principle that public assistance, including medical and hospital services, should be provided on a state or local basis for those in need, regardless of the cause.

"Any state which adopts a compulsory disability insurance program is setting up the pattern for transfer to the federal government."

"The time has come to call a halt to the present trend which is encouraging the surrender of individual initiative, destroying ambition and responsibility and threatening our national economy with bankruptcy."

Another resolution passed by the delegates urged members and their families to register for the Nov. 7 election.

The convention also approved a bill recommending that the "Hess" report be adopted by the American Medical Association.

trial. The first trial ended in a hung jury.

The former Cleveland mayor also rapped at the State Liquor Board in a talk at a meeting of the Goodwill industries.

He said the state is in the liquor business "for money only without regard for the degradation it produces. It's time that we locally—no matter what the liquor board or governor does—must move in and say: 'you can't do those things in this community.'

Heart Defects Higher In Feeble-minded Persons
